

flush left

Text that is aligned on the left margin is said to be set flush left. If the same text is not aligned on the right margin, it is said to be set flush left, ragged right. The term ragged right is sometimes used alone to mean the same thing.

From:

<https://type.wiki/> - type|wiki

Permanent link:

https://type.wiki/en/sources/adobe_glossary/fer-a-gauche.md

Last update: 16/03/2025 15:22

